A special school party
At Mrs Greens new school, all the students love the month of march because there is a St. Patrick’s Day party at the 17th.
It’s always one of the best partys of the year.
The parents are going there every year too.
Green is the colour of the evening: the eat ,
drinks and all the decorations are green.
Of course, all the teachers wear usually green too. Last year, the childs started to laugh when Mr Beck, there French teacher, came in and everyone saw his clothes: blue jeans and a red T-shirt. But the PE teacher was fast: she gives him her green hat.
Then the teachers’s music band played. They didn’t sang a lot, but their songs were funny.
Suddenly they heard a loud sound. “Oh no!”
shouted Mrs Winter, the Music teacher:
“What put you into my glass? Look!
There’s a frog in my drink! Oh no!”
Yes, there was a very small animal. All the students thinked : “What a funny frog!”
